

Rebuilding Together

Stonefield clearly demonstrated its ability to rebuild our neighborhood after the Tubbs Fire. The price was right and the people at Stonefield make it feel like a family rebuild.

Stonefield Restorations, a custom home builder with offices in Orange County, has a team that shares in depth expertise in rebuilding fire survivors' homes. Stonefield has a long legacy of providing excellent residential construction throughout the Southern California market. In the 2017 Tubbs Fire, the Stonefield team rebuilt over 100 homes in Santa Rosa, CA, which marked our fourth group rebuild effort in the aftermath of a wildfire.

Over the past two decades the Stonefield team has been credited with leading the nation's largest rebuilding effort in one community after a major disaster. Previously, Stonefield Companies rebuilt 81 homes in Scripps Ranch (San Diego) after the 2003 Cedar Fire and organized two more Southern California group rebuilds after the 2007 Witch Creek Fire (San Diego) and 2008 Freeway Complex Fire (Orange County).

The Stonefield team shares vast experience and knowledge in working with fire survivors, insurance companies, architects, subcontractors, mortgage holders, fund control and building departments. To learn more or to schedule an appointment, please contact us.

TESTIMONIALS

The thought of rebuilding our home after losing everything seemed daunting. From our first meeting with [Stonefield's] staff, we knew their team was the one we wanted to work with on our rebuild project. Thankfully Stonefield has a staff member (Charlotte Elkanj) who is well-versed in insurance and the detailed documentation required to keep our insurance claim moving forward as the building process begins. We are eager to return to our community and look forward to living in our first Stonefield home!

Stonefield developers has made the process to rebuild much easier. They have the knowledge of hiring contractors to build our home, such as civil engineers and plumbers and electrical and fiber optics contractors, etc. Stonefield developers submit documents to get permit approval by our County ordinance. They work closely with our HOA in building to status quo. I wouldn't know where to begin in all this process. I am very happy to have Stonefield as our builders and highly recommend them.

I was impressed with all the information that was presented to us in a very clear and concise manner.... [Stonefield] is super organized and disciplined. In a very short span of time they managed to retrieve information about our plans, models, any cumbersome requirements from the city or the county, pricing, rough drawings of plans and models and how they would help us each step of the way.... We are so grateful to Stonefield for being there to help us when we needed them the most. Thank you for helping us to move forward and normalize our respective lives.
